Marc Gerritsen : Taiwan Mod before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Taiwan Mod:

With it unique blend of ancient Chinese traditions, modern Japanese style influences and a vibrant, creative class of internationally trained designers and artists, this small island nation of Taiwan is poised to emerge as one of Asias most promising design hubs. TAIWAN MOD is the first book ever to document the growing phenomenon of Taiwan interior design and architecture in its full detailed splendor. Renowned Dutch photographer Marc Gerritsen has captured the essence of this new Taiwanese style in over 600 stunning photographs, supplemented by numerous interviews (by Luuk F.van Heerde) with emerging and established Taiwanese designers. Taiwanese culture is slowly gaining recongnition in the international design community as a new and powerful influence in Asia and beyond. The book TAIWAN MOD, being the first of its kind is destined to become an indispensable work for all of those who have a keen interest in modern interior design and architecture.
